Team Evaluation

Question: Did you set reasonable expectations for what tasks you would complete and by when you would complete them, and did you meet those expectations?

Answer:
- Rui: I think that although we set reasonable expectation each meeting, we nevertheless were pushing the limit and expanding the scope overall. Especially compared to the some of the Best Projects selected, we overcomplicated the system. Per each sprint backlog, we all met those expectations.
- Sam: I think we set reasonable expectations and deadlines for each meeting. We failed to meet these deadlines at times, so our finished product was not as complete as we would have liked.
- Noam: I think we set reasonable expectations each meeting we had and for each sprint backlog. Noam met those expectations, Sam over met those expectations with putting additional work to the project and Rui had some problems at the end of the project but overall, she met those expectations.

Question: Did you accurately communicate your skills, availability, and time constraints to your teammates so that your teammates could set reasonable expectations for your work?

Answer:
- Rui: Rui: 100%, Sam: 100%, Noam: 100%.
- Sam: Yes.
- Noam: Rui: 100%, Sam: 100%, Noam: 100%.

Question: Did you attend all project meetings and arrive on time, so as not to waste your teammates' time?

Answer:
- Rui: Rui: 75%, Sam: 100%, Noam: 100%.
- Sam: Yes.
- Noam: Rui: 80%, Sam: 100%, Noam: 100%.

Question: When faced with project problems (whether technical or social), did you communicate those problems to your teammates constructively and unemotionally so that your teammates could adapt their behavior as needed?

Answer:
- Rui:
  - Rui -
  - Sam - was always task-driven and professional, and his pep talk was encouraging. He was emotional and rigid in some circumstances.

- ○ Noam - knew how to communicate and how to agree to disagree.
- Sam: Yes.
- Noam:
  - ○ Rui - faced the problems constructively and adapt her behavior quickly.
  - ○ Sam - a bit emotional when criticized the team members, but when it came to work together he was 100% professional.
  - ○ Noam - I feel I cannot answer this question about myself, but I feel I adapted to the changes when we addressed our problems.

Question: What fraction of the project do you believe that each team member completed?

Answer:
- Rui: Rui: 22% Sam: 43% Noam: 35%
- Sam: Rui 15%, Sam 50%, Noam 35%
- Noam: Rui: 22% Sam: 45% Noam: 33%
